GACC International Career Day for Students at CU Boulder

“A call to all International Companies and Businesses of the Rocky Mountain Region!”

Come and give our future generations of International professionals an opportunity!

GACC International Career Day for Students at CU Boulder

This is an invitation to all companies, large and small, German and European in orientation, to come and present your company or business to young CU students now moving toward graduation. If your company is planning in the near future to be hiring Interns, Part-Time or Full-time positions here is the opportunity to give students of International Affairs, International Business, German, French, Italian, Russian and other European Languages an opportunity which domestically oriented companies cannot provide to them. Come and talk to the students and potential future leaders of our commercial industries, tell them of what your company or place of business does, what the industries in which you are active really involve and what these students will need to bring to the table to work in these areas.

All categories of Industry are welcome: Travel, Tourism, Intl. Real Estate, Relocations, Translation and Interpretation, Trans-national Corporations, Legal Firms, Research and Development Groups, Renewable Energy Companies, Government Organisations, Importers and Exporters, Retail Suppliers, etc... Even small companies wishing to expand and grow and develop new and loyal employees over time.

These young men and women students have a goal. They want to get a start in the international sphere of business but do not know where to start in the “Real world” of international Commerce. You know them, you too were there once. The usual Career Services Departments do not offer international jobs or contacts so they are left on their own to find out how and where to apply.

We, at the German American Chamber of Commerce want to give these young aspirants a special chance to get a head start on becoming working professionals in the international fields of their choice. Lets give them a chance!

We ask that all companies wishing to participate be prepared to come to CU Boulder, have flyers, prospects, job descriptions and/or some information.
